

ADVANCING HUMANITARIAN INNOVATION

Symposium on Gender, Displacement, and Islamic Philanthropy

The symposium aims to push interdisciplinary boundaries and contribute to developing an inclusive humanitarian policy and practice. By connecting humanitarian, migration, and religious systems, it provides a platform to exchange and discuss innovative conceptual and financing solutions to support displaced women through integrating different aid paradigms.

Organized by "Making Aid Work for Displaced Women," a project of the University of Birmingham, the symposium is being held in collaboration with the Muslim Philanthropy Initiative at Indiana University's Lilly Family School of Philanthropy.

Date: September 8th-9th 2025

Location: Edgbaston Park Hotel

53 Edgbaston Park Road

Birmingham B15 2RS, UK

For inquiries, contact: mpiinfo@iu.edu

For logistics, contact: makingaidwork@contacts.bham.ac.uk

UNIVERSITY OF BIRMINGHAM

UK Research and Innovation

MUSLIM PHILANTHROPY
INITIATIVE
LILLY FAMILY SCHOOL OF PHILANTHROPY
Indiana University Indianapolis